Green Datacenter appoints new Head of Sales and Marketing

In his new role as Head of Sales and Marketing, Marco Stadler will help to shape and implement the growth strategy of data center provider Green. He will also be a member of the Executive Board.

Lupfig, October 4, 2018 – On October 1, 2018, Marco Stadler was handed responsibility for the Sales and Marketing business units and was also appointed to the Executive Board of Green Datacenter AG. The 45-year-old Swiss native will strengthen the team and help to cement and expand on Green's position as the country's leading data center provider.

For the last four years, Marco Stadler has headed the North American business of the Swissphone Group, where he was also a member of Group management since 2011. He possesses extensive expertise in the IT systems and solutions business, which he acquired in his past roles, including as Director of Sales and Presales for the Swiss and German markets at Ascom Switzerland as well as in various positions at IBM Switzerland.

Marco Stadler holds an Executive MBA in International Management and is a Swiss Certified Electrical Engineer. "In Marco Stadler, we have appointed a very experienced manager with extensive contacts and we look forward to him developing and expanding our customer relationships," explained Frank Boller, CEO of Green Datacenter AG.
